THE INTERNAL REVENUE

REPORT OF COMMISSIONER EVANS.

Difficulties of Collecting Being Rapidly Overcome—Interesting Statistics of the Tobacco and Liquor Traffic—Number of Distilleries and Tobacco Factories.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—Commissioner Evans, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has submitted his annual report to Secretary Folger. The receipts for the fiscal year, ended 30, 1883, were $144,538,344, and for the first three months of the current year $39,673,178. The general condition of the service is good. In one or two localities there are some things to be corrected in the manner of administration, but these are not of very great moment, and it is thought all cause of complaint will soon disappear. He refers mainly to the Fifth and Sixth districts of North Carolina, where some abuses of long standing are being gradually removed. No extensive frauds are being perpetrated upon the Government by persons required to pay internal revenue taxes. Evidence accumulates daily that even in those portions of the country, where at one period it was not regarded as disreputable to resort to any device to defeat the collection of internal revenue, there is a healthy change of public sentiment, and it is not difficult to secure the conviction of the guilty. No extensive organization exists anywhere in the country whose object is to defraud the Government of its internal revenue. While these general statements are true, it is equally true that not only have persons been guilty of misdemeanors, but they have not hesitated to commit the gravest crimes in resisting the internal revenue officers in their efforts to discharge their duties. He urges an amendment to the laws fixing the limitation for the prosecution of offenses against the revenue laws at a much less period than five years. As now provided by law, except in cases where the accused places himself beyond the jurisdiction of the court of the district where the offense was committed, in nearly every instance where a conviction has been secured the offense was committed within two years before the indictment was found. Cases older than two years are almost invariably lost by the Government. He has been strongly urged to recommend a proclamation of general amnesty to all persons who have retained distilled spirits without payment of a special tax, and to all persons who have operated small distilleries without registering the same, and complying with other laws and regulations. This view is urged by its advocates upon the ground that a large number of those thus engaged are desirous of abandoning their unlawful practices, but, having long been violators of the law, they see no special inducement to leave off at any time they are to be arrested for what was done within five years. The expenditures for the discovery and punishment of fraud were $61,275; number of stills seized 397; persons arrested, 1,635, and one officer of the revenue service killed. There has been generally throughout the country little disposition to evade payment of internal revenue taxes. On the contrary, there has been evinced by the great body of tax-payers a willing obedience to the laws. There has been no relaxation on the part of officers to secure the close and faithful collection of the taxes. In portions of the country, notably in the more remote and sparsely settled districts of the Southern States, within a few years the production of and traffic in illicit spirits and tobacco have prevailed to a great extent. In some districts formidable combinations existed to resist the collection of taxes, and the authority of the Government was openly defied. The enforcement of laws was attended with great difficulty and not unfrequently with loss of life to the officers. The policy adopted to execute the law firmly and vigorously, but impartially and in as conciliatory a manner as possible, has brought about a better public sentiment and a decided improvement in the condition of affairs in this respect in the localities referred to. Seizures of property for violation of internal revenue laws during the fiscal year were 41,969 gallons of distilled spirits, 60,653 pounds of tobacco, 52,444 cigars and miscellaneous property, the total valuation of which was $121,308, and for the quarter ending September 30, 1883, the value of the property seized was $34,492. The estimated expense of the service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1883, is $4,990,190. The number of cigars reported having been manufactured in the United States during the twelve months ended December 31, 1882, is 3,100,000,000, and of cigarettes 600,000,000. The Commissioner estimates that the new revenue law of last March will cause a reduction of revenue of $25,000,000 during the next fiscal year. In the statistical portions of the report are found the following figures: Number of tobacco factories in operation during the year, 774, using 206,243,212 pounds of material which yielded 168,781,629 pounds of manufactured stuff and tobacco 5,283 distilleries of spirits and malt liquors were registered. Grain and other materials used for the production of distilled spirits 18,044,787 bushels, yielding a production 2,373,106 gallons. Number of proof gallons of spirits, rectified, in year ended April 30, 1883, 64,940,000. Number of gallons of spirits in warehouse, June 30, 1883, 80,922,645.

EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Systematic Series of Thefts in the Chicago Warehouse.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—For some time past large quantities of valuable consignments have disappeared from the warehouses of the United States Express Company. Last night a well-known thief, Henry Longstreet, was arrested while trying to sell a quantity of choice imported cigars. He confessed his guilt and implicating Gordon Ostrander, an employee of the Express Company, who had charge of stowing away all goods in the cars of the Rock Island Railroad. Longstreet said that in connection with Ostrander he had committed numerous thefts of bundles of clothing and cigars, afterward disposing of the goods at pawnshops. Longstreet has already been convicted of larceny and forgery and has served a term in the Bridewell.

FIENDISH CRIME.

Brutal Assault Upon a Little Child of Eight Years.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Jennie Jones, a beautiful girl aged eight, was found in her bed Thursday morning bleeding and frightfully mutilated, having been outraged. The child's parents who were regarded as highly respectable English people, and recently arrived here from Chicago, charge Buckell, the girl's uncle, and a brother of Mrs. Jones, as guilty of the crime. Although his conduct on previous occasions aroused their suspicions, they refused to prosecute him. Saturday night it is said Jones, who is the girl's stepfather, received $500 from Buckell and left town with his wife and child. Buckell has also disappeared.

The Glass Workers' Strike.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—Mr. J. A. Chambers, Chairman of the Conference Committee of the Western Window Glass Association, in a card just published, denies entirely that the committee has shown any desire to avoid a conference with the glass workers' committee, and says that he is ready at any time to call a meeting of his committee to meet the representatives of the glass workers, and further states that thus far no members of the workers' committee have requested such a conference. The window glass works remain shut down and the strike promises to continue indefinitely.

Commercial Travelers' Association.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—As previously announced, there was a meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association in the Chamber of Commerce building. Very few members were present, and, lacking a quorum, no business could be done. Those present were unanimously in favor of putting forth every effort to repair the shattered frame of the organization, and make it worthy of support.

Trouble Among Amalgamated Miners.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—Great dissatisfaction has existed for some time among members of the Miners' Amalgamated Association, some claiming that the Association was being run in opposition to the Knights of Labor. The Summer Hill miners have refused to pay assessments of the Association, and it is said others will follow their example.

The President's Residence.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The President will not return to the Executive Mansion to live before December. He is well suited with his life at the Soldiers' Home. Mrs. McElroy will be here about the first of January to resume the same duties she agreeably performed last season.

Meeting of the Coke Pool.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—A meeting of the Coke Pool will be held in New York next Friday. The object of the meeting is to settle the prorating of the Coke business, which is necessary since the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny Railroad has entered the pool.

Celebrating Martin Luther.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—On next Saturday will be celebrated the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Dr. Martin Luther, and on the Sunday following appropriate memorial services will be held in all the Lutheran churches in Allegheny City and Pittsburgh.

Reception to Bishop Riordan.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Nov. 4.—Bishop Riordan and party arrived here Saturday, and were given a reception by the Catholic clergy last evening.

Chicago, and the stakes were $500 a side. The fight lasted one hour and six minutes, and seven rounds in all were fought. After the usual preliminaries of sponging and lasting, the dogs were put down and immediately rushed together. "Tommy B." got the first grip on "Senator's" shoulder, the latter retaliating by getting "Tommy" by the jaw. After holding on for some time, "Tommy" threw "Senator," and went for his throat in a lively manner. Time was called and the dogs separated. "Tommy" being the favorite in the betting. After five minutes' interval the second round was commenced by "Senator" getting "Tommy" by the throat. The dogs fought all over the ring, "Tommy" getting decidedly the worst of it, and showing signs of weakness. When time was called, at the third round, "Tommy" came up reinvigorated and went to work in a plucky manner, though it was evident that he was overmatched both in size, skill and strength. "Senator" had all the best of the third and succeeding rounds, and chewed the unfortunate "Tommy" at his will. The Chicago dog, however, behaving in the pluckiest manner, notwithstanding that the flesh was being literally torn from his body. In the seventh round "Senator" got him fairly and squarely by the throat, and the two laid on the ground together, "Senator" panting from his exertions. The unfortunate "Tommy" took one look at his conqueror and then with an agonizing yelp departed this life. "Tommy" was valued by his owner at over $800, that figure having been refused for him. The fight was one of the best and most stubborn witnessed for some time, but weight told. The authorities did not interfere, and the party returned to the city peacefully.

MISSING MARY AT HOME.

THE LOST ONE REACHES ST. LOUIS.

Dodging the Reporters—What She Says About Her Absence—Too Much Home Discipline the Cause of the Trouble—She Will Remain With Her Mother and Abandon Tramping.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—Mary Churchill accompanied by her father, arrived in St. Louis by the Vandalia train from Indianapolis at 8 o'clock this morning. They left the train at the Main street depot to avoid the crowd of reporters that were awaiting them at the Union Depot, and were driven at once to the Churchill residence. To a reporter who saw her there several hours later, she expressed some indignation at some of the manufactured interviews that had been published since her whereabouts became known. She wished it distinctly stated that she had not seen any St. Louis papers since she left home in August, and was ignorant of the great sensation her disappearance had caused. A week ago she was appointed superintendent of one of the wards in the Indiana Asylum for the Insane, where she was employed, and her duties in this new capacity would have begun to-day. She declined to state her reasons for going away, but it is suggested that she found the home discipline too irksome and that she was especially tired of the task of practicing four hours a day on the piano. She says she will henceforth devote herself to the care of her mother, who has been terribly broken up by the affair. The failure to find her is partly explained that she really does not look at all like the pictures of her that were sent out in every direction. She is in good health and spirits, and gained twenty pounds during her absence.

CHRISTIAN'S CONDUCT.

Eloping With His Host's Wife and Money.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—A sensation is caused by the arrest of Christian Heische, formerly Accountant General of Paraguay and confidential adviser of the King of that country. The complainant is Theodore Barowski, a wealthy merchant of Assumption. Ten months ago, at a State dinner, Heische met Mrs. Barowski, wife of the complainant and the daughter of a distinguished family. After this the visits of the servant of the King to the home of the merchant prince, Barowski, were frequent, and rumors of misconduct had scarcely begun to be whispered when one morning seven months ago Heische, together with Mrs. Barowski and her four-year-old daughter, embarked for London and thence to the Continent, where they paid a long visit to the parents of the unfaithful wife. During this time Barowski was beside himself with rage. Three months ago the runaway pair came to New York and thence to this city, where they furnished apartments on Webster avenue. All went well until Barowski, who had discovered the whereabouts of the fugitives, reached here and had Heische placed under arrest. Mrs. Barowski was found secreted in the parlor of her home, but as she agreed to return to her forgiving husband she was spared the disgrace of arrest. It is claimed by Barowski that Heische, at the time he bid Montevideo good bye, took with him $30,000 belonging to the wronged husband, and that the fugitive left a wife and children at the Paraguayan capital. Meanwhile the husband, who had expended many thousands dollars in tracking his wife, and had traveled across three continents, is happy in her presence after a forced absence of seven months.

FOUL MURDER.

A Father and His Paramour Arrested for the Killing of His Son.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 5.—A Princeton dispatch says Mrs. Ellen Long, widow, and L. S. Whittemore, father of the boy found in the river with his throat cut, have been arrested for the murder. Detectives who took the case had their suspicions turned to Mrs. Long because of rumors that she once attempted to poison Whittemore's wife and failed. Searching her house, they found the bloody clothes which she had been wearing up to the murder and a butcher knife and two razors stained with blood. In a well on her premises was found a club with blood marks. Neighbors say that a criminal intimacy existed between the widow and Whittemore, and that it was known to his nine-year-old son, who was probably thus disposed of to stop scandal. The boy was missing ten days, but the father made little effort to find him. The theory is that the boy was killed by Mrs. Long in her cellar, and that his father carried the body to the river and hid it in a place where he pretended to first discover it ten days later. Mrs. Long is a daughter of ex-County Judge A. H. Myers.

A SORRY PLIGHT.

Frank Dubois is Now About to Become a Father.

CHELTON, Wis., Nov. 5.—The wife of S. J. Hudson, of Belvidere, Ill., who deserted her home and two children and went to Waupun, Wis., and, dressing in male attire, assumed the name of Frank Dubois, is, it is possible, creating more attention than ever. As Frank Dubois she last spring met Gertrude Fuller, and after a short courtship the two were married. The husband of Frank Dubois, by his searches, caused Frank's sex to be exposed, and considerable excitement ensued. The wife of this woman, Gertrude, still contends that Frank is a man, and as an evidence, Gertrude is now enceinte. Mrs. Hewitt, Gertrude's mother, came to town this morning to have "Frank" arrested, and she was told by the authorities she would have to go to Fond du Lac. Now, if Frank is really a girl matters are getting in a pretty shape. Mrs. Hewitt says he is, but Gertrude declares that Frank is a man, although Frank is the mother of S. J. Hudson's two children. Mrs. Hewitt declares she will prosecute Frank to the full extent of the law.

STUBBORN FLAMES.

A Great Three-Days' Fire Raging in London.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A fire, which broke out in Lines Bros' saw-mill, in the Haggerston district, Saturday morning, is still raging fiercely, although thirty engines and 600 firemen are working strenuously. A brisk wind is blowing. There are no hopes of saving any of the houses on the block. Thus far eighteen have burned; loss, $2,000,000. An immense stock of lumber is on the ground, and will probably continue to burn for two days.

Minnesota Politics.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 5.—The Republicans claim the State by from 8,000 to 30,000, the Democrats by from 4,000 to 5,000. The Democrats made a big fight for Bierman, on account of his Norwegian birth, and have been creating a defection of 25 per cent. among 16,000 Scandinavians, usually Republican voters. The foolish plan in regard to prohibition in the Republican platform will cost the party some votes.

Condition of the River.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—The following is the stage of water at points above Pittsburgh: Pittsburgh, six feet six inches, falling; Oil City, three feet and falling; Parkersburg, three feet eight inches, rising; Brownsville, five feet, stationary; Lock No. Four, seven feet, falling; Morgantown, two feet three inches, falling; Rice's Landing, four feet nine inches, falling; Greensboro, eleven feet eight inches, falling.

One of Mabley's Men Shot.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 5.—A young man named Joseph Commaning, employed in the clothing house of C. R. Mabley & Co., was shot and killed in the city suburbs by an unknown party. The affair is involved in mystery. A shot was heard, and the man who fired it seen to leave the spot by two women, but he is not yet apprehended.

MISSING MARY AT HOME.

THE LOST ONE REACHES ST. LOUIS.

Dodging the Reporters—What She Says About Her Absence—Too Much Home Discipline the Cause of the Trouble—She Will Remain With Her Mother and Abandon Tramping.

REHEA'S STORY.

She Falls Among Thieves and Loses a Watch the Czar Gave Her.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Within the past two months an actress was robbed of her diamonds at the Continental Hotel. Another made complaint at the same hotel that her jewels were missing. A third, while playing at the Chestnut Street Theater, declared that a lot of her silk dresses were stolen and an actor advertised himself through the loss of a performing bull-dog. The latest theatrical story of theft concerns Miss Rhea, who is playing at the Chestnut Street Theater. Substantially told it is this: Miss Rhea and her maid reached this city in a sleeping car. The actress has the good old-fashioned habit of putting her watch under her pillow when she sleeps, and this she did not fail to do on this sad occasion. It was a bijou of a watch, with an open dial, jeweled, and adorned as to the back with an embossed Roman "R." Miss Rhea, it is set forth in the story, received it as a present from the Czar in Russia, and valued it accordingly. Miss Rhea's maid remembers to have looked at the watch at 7 p. m., but at 7:30, when its fair owner needed it, it was gone. There seems to have been some suspicion as to the car porter, but he, like the watch, is gone.

Suit Against a Telegraph Company.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—Charles A. O'Brien, an attorney for C. A. Dally, will to-day enter suit against the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company to recover $1,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that, on October 23d, a message was sent to him from a friend at Bellairs, Ohio, regarding a situation which the latter had procured for him. The telegram was sent over the B. & O. Company's line, but failed to reach the plaintiff until one week after it had been sent. In consequence of the delay Dally claims that he lost the situation, and now seeks to recover damages from the company. This is the third suit of the kind ever entered in this State, and raises an important question, notwithstanding the insignificance of the claim.

Acquitted.

SHEFFYVILLE, Ind., Nov. 5.—At a railroad election held at Fountainstown, this county, on the 25th of last September, Charles Vernon assaulted a young man named William Cross without cause. Cross, in order to defend himself, used a knife on his aggressor, slaying him about the head and breast until life was extinct. During the excitement he escaped, running through a corn-field, but returned next morning, giving himself up. The Grand Jury returned an indictment charging him with assault with intent to commit murder. On that charge he has been acquitted after a two days' trial.

Pittsburg Sculling Races.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—Mr. H. O. Price, the well-known pool seller of this city, who offered the prizes and secured the presence of the oarsmen and crews in the Hulton regatta in September, said in an interview: "I intend to give another regatta next year; in fact I propose giving one every year. But next season I will have only single and double scull races." Mr. Price stated that he had another course than Hulton in view for next season, and was going to have it surveyed on the ice this winter.

A Clergyman and His Wife Hurt.

EAST TAWAS, MICH., Nov. 4.—While Rev. Dr. Lyons, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was riding with his wife to church yesterday both were thrown from the buggy. Mrs. Lyons was severely hurt and the pastor broke a leg.
